

Performance and Beauty to Last a Lifetime: Arts & Crafts Collection from Crown Column & Millwork by Visador

Attalla, AL. - These days, savvy builders, remodelers and architects are utilizing decorative columns as a key design element. From gracing entryways and increasing curb appeal on exteriors to highlighting interior focal points, columns add timeless charm, beauty and character. A new line of columns poised to bring elegance into any interior or exterior space is the Arts & Crafts Collection from Crown Column & Millwork by Visador.

Quick and easy to install and offering low-maintenance performance, these classical columns are available in numerous styles or can be customized to the customer's specific needs. Crown Column & Millwork (www.crowncolumn.com) is an industry leader in the manufacturing of architectural fiberglass and wood columns and is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Visador Holding Company.

Borrowing inspiration from the early 1900s Arts & Crafts architectural design movement, the Arts & Crafts Collection is available in a wide selection of tapered, non-tapered, fluted, recessed and raised panel styles, or can be customized to virtually any length and dimension. "This collection offers beauty, elegance and a timeless sense of quality - without performance downfalls like checking, rotting or splitting," explains Joe Livengood, vice president and general manager of Crown Column & Millwork. "They are very durable and provide superior resistance to water damage and insect infestation."

The Arts & Crafts Collection comes in a wide variety of dimensions and lengths - in both cellular PVC and most any type of wood species available on the market. Designed for quick and simple installation for both interior and exterior applications, columns instantly bring ageless appeal to surrounding spaces.

"It's literally 'any species, any dimension' when it comes to our Arts & Crafts Collection," adds Livengood. "We've combined traditional character with modern materials and craftsmanship techniques for beautiful, classically-styled columns."
